Welcome Message

“Dear distinguished colleagues and guests, it is our pleasure to welcome you to the 2026 International Neurology Conference hosted in the beautiful and diverse city of Bangkok, Thailand. Our goal is to provide a receptive and inclusive forum for intellectual discussion and academic discourse in the pursuit of scholarly excellence. Our pre-eminent roster of highly decorated speakers and presenters will present cutting-edge research and data that we hope will lead to future breakthroughs in neurology, neuroscience, molecular pathology and neuropathology, and related scientific fields. We hope that you can join us for the in-person conference activities and share in the many exciting cultural opportunities offered in this wonderful city.

Sincerely,

Michael Punsoni

Associate Professor of Pathology, Brown University, USA

Welcome Message

Dear Colleagues and Scientists,

In our aging society, neurodegenerative disorders such as Alzheimer's Disease (AD) and Parkinson's Disease are persistent progressive diseases, and they have a major impact on human health along with immense societal impact and important economic consequences. AD is the most common form of senile dementia, affecting 57 million people globally, a number expected to rise to 150 million by 2050, and it is the fourth leading cause of death in the USA. The risk of developing neurodegenerative diseases is steadily increasing dramatically due to increased lifespan, resulting in a significant burden for families, health-care systems, and society.

On behalf of the Organizing Committee, I extend a warm welcome to the distinguished speakers and participants of the 5th Edition of the International Neurology Conference (INC 2026) to be held in October 16-18, 2026, in Bangkok, Thailand. This prestigious Neurology Conference 2026 brings together leading neurologists, researchers and brain health professionals from around the globe to explore the latest research advancements and emerging therapies for neurodegenerative diseases. The conference will bridge the gap between basic research and clinical practice, providing a platform for the exchange of ideas and knowledge that will drive future research and offer insights into new diagnostic and preventive / treatment approaches.

We aim to provide the scientific forum for discussion, meetings, networking and allow a close contact between speakers, as well as to establish collaborations. We do hope that you will enjoy the INC 2026 Conference and enjoy your visit to the unique and vibrant city of Bangkok!
